

Charlotte Attorney Leveling the Playing Field

After an auto accident, people are often full of questions. How can I get compensated for medical bills, pain and suffering, and other consequences of my injuries? How do I get money to pay for property damage and get my car working again?

At The Wilson Law Firm, PLLC, we can meet with you free of charge and answer your questions. Gregory N. Wilson has helped thousands of people in the Charlotte, North Carolina area with car accidents. Contact us if you suffered an accident anywhere near Charlotte, North Carolina, including Gastonia, Concord, Lincolnton, and all of Mecklenburg County.

We Get Paid When You Win

If, after speaking with Mr. Wilson, you want him to help you get compensation, he can take your case on a contingency fee basis. This means that, in almost all cases, he is paid nothing until you agree to a settlement or receive a verdict. We work on contingency in all personal injury cases, including car crashes, truck accidents, and more.

Do Not Automatically Take What the Insurance Companies Offer

Soon after an auto accident, you probably will be approached by an insurance company. They may seem sympathetic and offer you a small settlement. They may even go as far as to tell you that you have to take their offer and sign their forms.

The truth is that you do not have to accept what the insurance company offers you -- in fact, it is almost always better to wait. Insurance companies usually start with a very low offer to see if they can get away with paying you much less than you deserve.

It never hurts to check with a lawyer first before you sign anything - and our initial consultation is free! Our personal injury attorney can use his years of experience to determine what you really have coming for injuries and property damage. He is here for the people, not the insurance companies, and you can trust him to have your best interests at heart.
