

Charlotte Lawyer Working for the People

Insurance companies and trucking companies deny most claims for injuries and property damage from truck accidents. They often do not deny these claims because they're invalid -- they deny them because they find them to be expensive. These claims involve paying lots of money to the injured person, so insurance companies would rather find a reason to not pay anything.

Attorney Gregory N. Wilson does not work for insurance or trucking companies. He works For The People who are not getting what they need from these companies. He has devoted his career to helping people injured throughout the Charlotte, North Carolina area, including Gastonia, Concord, Matthews, and elsewhere in Mecklenburg County.

In almost all cases, we do not get paid until you win.

Compared to other kinds of auto accidents, trucking accidents tend to result in especially serious injuries and property damage. Sometimes they even result in wrongful deaths. Though these are terrible tragedies, insurance and trucking companies are more likely to see them as expenses they do not want to pay.

And these companies are very good at finding reasons not to fulfill their obligations and may insist that you agree to their offer and sign their papers. You do not have to agree to anything. You have every right to speak to an attorney who will be on your side, not theirs.

Time May Run Out

It is very important to get a lawyer of your own on board as soon as possible. The statute of limitations on truck accident cases is limited, and only by hiring an attorney who can file a lawsuit can you protect your rights to sue.
